

“The numbness in my feet was so intense, I didn’t even notice that my feet were burned.”

How one woman finally found relief from numbness, tingling, and itching... and how you can, too

“It was a beautiful, hot and sunny afternoon in August. And I was on vacation with my family in South Haven, Michigan...

“With my flip flops in hand, I carried my beach bag, umbrella, and chair onto the white sand and headed towards the water.

“All of a sudden, I heard screams.

“I looked around and saw my family and other beachgoers hopping and shrieking as they ran towards the water. I couldn’t figure out what was going on.

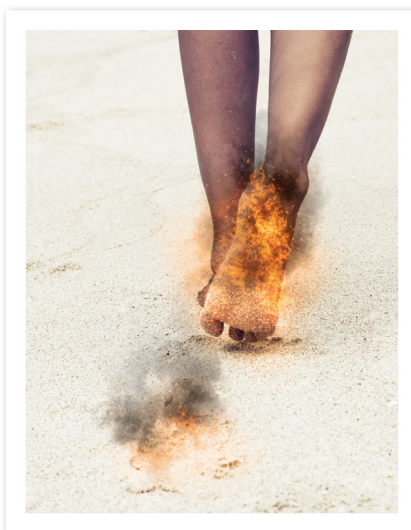

“That’s when I heard my nephew yell, ‘The sand is burning me!’

“I looked down, and my feet were swollen and bright red! My toes looked like puffy Vienna sausages. And I could literally see blisters forming on the bottom soles of my feet...

“My feet were literally burning up—and I didn’t even feel a thing!”

“For years, I’ve suffered from painful tingling and numbness in my feet...

“I didn’t think it was a problem running errands all day—without knowing my toes were in the wrong spaces of my flip flops...

“...Or walking across the parking lot to my car—not realizing I left my shoes underneath the table of my favorite restaurant...

“To make things worse—I also had this...

“Awful itching happening inside of my feet...”

“It felt like a thousand mosquitos were repeatedly stinging me inside on the soles of my feet. Over and over and over again.

“I felt pins and needles sensations that would wake me in the middle of the night. I would try rubbing... massaging... even smacking my feet to get the itching to stop. But no matter how hard I tried—I just couldn’t manage to scratch deep enough to get relief.

“But it wasn’t that day that I stood on the burning sand without feeling a hint of pain—that I got really scared! That’s when I called Dr. Zand.”

Dear friend,

The story you've just read is from my reader Jennifer W. It's a story I've heard many times from my patients over the years. Luckily, I knew just what to do for Jennifer. And I'm going to tell you all about it in a moment. But first, let me introduce myself.

My name is Dr. Janet Zand, and I've been practicing integrative medicine and helping formulate healing herbal and nutritional medicines for over 25 years. You may recognize my name from my books or my articles in Cosmopolitan, The Wall Street Journal, or The Los Angeles Times.

In my many years of practice, I've received dozens of phone calls from patients like Jennifer—folks who are all at their wits end with constant tingling... painful itching... and annoying numbness in their feet and hands. These are men and women who can literally walk on broken glass and feel no pain.

Now in most cases, being pain-free is a godsend—even worth bragging about. But for people like Jennifer—this “pain-free” condition increases their risk for burned heels, deep gashes, wounds, and even broken bones!

And if left untreated, it can easily lead to infections and far more serious complications.

So if you're like Jennifer and suffer from numbness, tingling, or itching, you need to know this is a symptom of a much bigger problem happening your body. You see...

Your Nerves are Betraying You in a Dangerous Way

Numbness and tingling are the first signs your nerve function is breaking down. And one of the biggest culprits behind this deterioration in nerve activity is high blood sugar.

Let me explain why...

As you may know, when blood sugar levels rise, your body releases insulin. Insulin is the hormone that helps control blood sugar. And one of the first things it does when blood sugar levels rise is to try to get rid of it! Insulin does this by ordering your muscle and fat cells to take in more sugar and burn it for energy.

But sometimes blood sugar levels rise too fast, and your muscle and fat cells can't keep up. After a while, these cells fatigue and stop responding to insulin's order. And they stop taking in glucose. As a result, your blood sugar levels skyrocket.

How Excessive Blood Sugar Destroys Your Nerves

When this happens, your nerve cells get flooded with sugar. That's because, unlike other cells, nerve cells don't have a way to stop glucose from entering. Instead, it's like the door is always open, so glucose charges in.

As more and more glucose pours into nerve cells, it creates a traffic jam. There is so much glucose that the nerve cell can't metabolize it fast enough. When this happens, the excess glucose creates highly reactive molecules that wreak havoc on your cells.

That's when things go from bad to worse. These reactive molecules combine with proteins to form something called Advanced Glycation End Products, or AGEs.

Why Your Hands and Feet Burn, Tingle, and Itch

It's fitting that the acronym for Advanced Glycation End products is AGEs. Because AGEs do in fact cause you to age faster. In every cell of your body.

AGEs cause inflammation that damages the mitochondria or "power plants" in your cells. And the more damaged the mitochondria become, the more AGEs are formed. It's a vicious cycle.

As AGEs build up, they dull your nerve endings.

As a result, your nerves become less efficient at communicating with other nerves.

So more and more AGEs build up in your blood vessels. The vessels then get stiffer and less flexible.

And the smaller the blood vessel, the worse the damage. That's why your feet, toes, hands, and fingers are so vulnerable, because they contain some of the smallest blood vessels in your body.

The more glycation you have, the less blood flow reaches the nerves in your feet. Before you know it, an entire area is affected. What starts as a pinpoint of dullness rapidly spreads through your entire foot or hand.

AGEs damage the parts in your nerve cells that signal pain, telling you something is wrong. One of the first signs of this nerve damage is this crazy itching. It's the warning sign that your nerve endings are deteriorating. And that's why it's critical that you take action right away, before it gets worse.

Finally, You Can Get Relief From Constant Nerve Pain!

And that's why I'm writing to you today. Because thanks to a discovery from Japan, you can slash the amount of AGE's in your blood, reduce damage to tiny blood vessels, and boost healthy nerve signals to your fingers, toes, hands, and feet.

Here's the story:

Scientists have known for years that your body makes enzymes that block sugar from binding to proteins. They've also known for years that in order for your body to make these enzymes, it needs plenty of vitamin B1 (thiamine).

But because thiamine is water-soluble, it's quickly excreted through your urine. As a result, it's hard for your body to build up any reserve.

And this is especially true for people with blood sugar problems. In fact, one study found that people with the worst blood sugar problems lose thiamine up to 24 times faster than people with normal blood sugar! So the very people who need thiamine the most are the ones who don't have enough.

Fortunately, Japanese scientists found a way to solve the problem: They created a fat-soluble form of thiamine that stays in the body much longer.

This fat-soluble form of thiamine is called benfotiamine (ben-foe-TEE-uh-meen). And it has been shown to be safe and effective in dozens of studies around the world.

- In one study, researchers took blood from people with blood sugar problems and measured the level of AGEs. They then gave those people benfotiamine for 28 days and measured their blood again. Result: The level of AGEs in the blood dropped by a whopping 40%!¹
- In another study, researchers tested the effects of benfotiamine on people with blood sugar problems who were suffering from nerve pain. They tested the patients on pain and on their ability to sense vibrations. They then put half the patients on benfotiamine and the other half on a placebo (dummy pill).

After 12 weeks, the researchers tested the patients again. They found that the people taking benfotiamine had less pain and could sense vibrations better. In fact, the group taking benfotiamine improved by 30%, while the placebo group worsened by 32%!²

- And in my favorite study of all, German doctors took a group of people with blood sugar problems and fed them a meal that was high in AGEs. (The meal contained 48 grams of high-glycemic carbohydrates, cooked at high temperatures!) They then tested the patients' blood vessel function using ultrasound, laser Doppler, and blood tests.³

To no one's surprise, the high-AGE meal caused harmful changes. There was a decrease in blood vessel function ... an increase in AGEs ... a decrease in blood flow ... and greater oxidative stress.

But the study didn't end there. The researchers continued to feed the patients the high-AGE meal for two more days. But this time, they also gave them benfotiamine.

The result was remarkable: Despite eating the high-AGE meal, the patients had improved blood vessel function ... a normalization of AGE levels ... greater blood flow ... and less oxidative stress. In just two days!

When I saw all the data on benfotiamine, I knew I had to get it to my patients and readers fast! So I called my friends at Advanced Bionutritionals and asked them to create a high quality nerve-repairing supplement with benfotiamine. It's called Advanced Nerve Support.

Advanced Nerve Support gives you the most effective amount of benfotiamine to repair damaged nerves based on the latest research. It gives it to you in the dosage proven to work in the major studies. And it gives it to you in the form that is easy for your body to absorb and use.

But we didn't stop there. We also added...

5 More Nerve-Repairing Nutrients to Help You Feel Your Feet and Hands Again

Advanced Nerve Support also provides 5 more key nutrients to help repair damaged nerves and restore feeling to your hands and feet. Together these nutrients help reduce nerve pain... lessen numbness and tingling...

Why Most Nerve Pain “Relievers” Don’t Work

If you’ve tried common pain relievers like Caspian creams, nitrate sprays and patches, or TENS (Transcutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulation) units... You may have experienced some pain relief. But then, if you’re like most nerve pain sufferers, it came right back again.

That’s because these remedies only temporarily mask the pain. They don’t address the root cause of your nerve pain—nasty AGEs generated by blood sugar problems. And so the burning, tingling, and painful numbness never gets resolved.

It’s like putting your hand on a hot stove and throwing water on top when you feel the burning! For real long-term relief, you’ve got to remove your hand, or else it will continue to burn no matter how much water you pour on it. It’s the exact same for your nerves. Target the source and the symptoms will go away.

That’s why Advanced Nerve Support is a godsend for nerve pain sufferers. It contains 6 unique nutrients designed to not only relieve your pain, but most importantly, to help repair and heal scorched nerve fibers damaged by AGEs.

Discover the critical nerve-restoring nutrients you need to stop the painful burning, itching and tingling for good on page 4. Then take advantage of my special Introductory Savings Certificate today!

and begin to mend the damage done by blood sugar problems.

For example, benfotiamine or vitamin B1 dramatically reduces your levels of nerve-destroying AGEs, but there’s another B vitamin that’s equally important...

Repairs the Protective Coating Around Nerve Cells

You see, AGEs also wear away the protective myelin coating around your delicate nerves. Without this protective coating, your nerves are exposed and can suffer permanent damage.

The myelin coating is also what controls the speed of nerve communication. When it is torn or damaged, communication between nerve cells slows down or stops altogether. The result is numbness or tingling in your hands and feet.

The good news is that research shows Vitamin B12 boosts the production of proteins needed to repair and restore this protective myelin coating. In animal studies, Vitamin B12 helps repair holes, tears, and other weak areas along the myelin sheath. Helping to restore normal nerve function.

But, once again, just like with thiamine, you must have the right form of vitamin B12. As you may know, there are two forms of vitamin B12, methylcobalamin and cyanocobalamin. What you may not know, is that individuals with blood sugar problems often have issues with methylation.

That’s why I recommend that if you have tingling and pain in your hands and feet, you will want to take the methylcobalamin form of vitamin B12. Because it contains a methyl group which makes it easier for your body to use.

Now along with the nerve-repairing powers of benfotiamine and methylcobalamin, you also need another often overlooked vitamin...

Regrows Damaged Nerve Endings

What is it? It's good old vitamin D. Now, if you're concerned about your health, then you probably already know about vitamin D. But what you may not know is that studies show many people with blood sugar problems and nerve pain still do not have enough vitamin D.

The good news is that once these folks begin taking vitamin D, their painful burning and sensitivity improves dramatically. In fact, taking more vitamin D can slash nerve pain nearly in HALF!

But that's not all vitamin D does. Groundbreaking new animal research shows vitamin D actually stimulates the growth of new nerve endings.

First, vitamin D boosts the formation of new axons at the end of nerve cells.⁴ Axons are the "tail" of the nerve cell. They act like a telegraph wire transmitting messages from one cell to the next. When your axons are damaged, the nerve cells cannot communicate with each other, and the result is a loss of feeling in your feet.

Second, vitamin D lengthens existing axons.⁵

Third, it turns on the genes that are responsible for nerve cell repair in your body.⁶

And finally, a recent study done on rabbits discovered that vitamin D could significantly increase healing and recovery from severe nerve damage in only 12 weeks.⁷

But, once again, just like with thiamine, you must have the right form of vitamin D. Researchers tested two popular forms of vitamin D in the studies above, ergocalciferol (vitamin D2) and cholecalciferol (vitamin D3). And researchers discovered that vitamin D3 performed significantly better when it came to nerve repair.

That's why we've added 400 I.U. of vitamin D3 (cholecalciferol) to the nerve pain formula. This is the most potent form and the easiest for your body to safely absorb.

But Vitamin D isn't all you need to repair your damaged nerves...

You also need to stop toxins, debris and other free radicals from interfering with nerve cell communication to your feet and hands.

Fights Nerve Destroying AGEs and Damaging Free Radicals

AGEs and other free radicals not only destroy your nerves, but they intensify the burning, itching, tingling, and numbness you feel. And one of the best ways to block AGEs and other free radicals from forming is with a powerful antioxidant like alpha lipoic acid.

Alpha lipoic acid has been used for years in Europe to help reduce nerve pain caused by blood sugar problems. That's because Alpha-lipoic acid destroys free radicals. It helps prevent glucose from linking to protein and forming AGEs. And it helps your body convert excess glucose into energy.

As a result, your nerve cells are protected from damage, fewer AGEs are created, and you enjoy more energy!

7. Eur Arch Otorhinolaryngol. 2015 Oct;272(10):2815-23.

But Advanced Nerve Support doesn't stop there... It also helps reconnect your nerves so they can "speak" to your numb feet and hands once again.

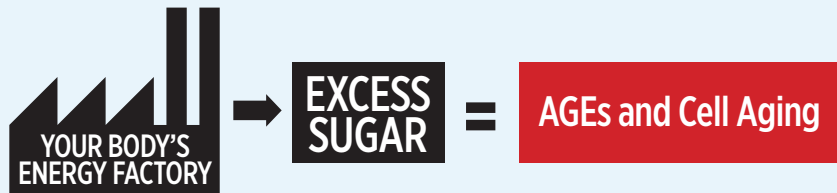

Restores Lost Nerve Communication

When the communication to your nerves gets disrupted, pain signals can get out of control. Your body can't respond properly and you can't get any relief from the pain and suffering.

Vitamin B6 helps restore this disrupted communication. It boosts the creation of neurotransmitters—the chemical signals responsible for your pain reactions. It helps keep your nerves from going haywire and sending pain signals to your hands and feet while you sleep. So you can finally rest again!

But that's not all that Advanced Nerve Support does. It also...

Energizes Repaired Nerves

An electric cord only works when it's plugged in, right? Well in a similar way, once these five other nutrients successfully patch up and restore your damaged nerves, Acetyl L-Carnitine kicks in with a strong energy boost to the newly connected nerve endings.
